Making money on EquestriCraft comes down to building a few steady habits instead of chasing one single “best” method. Right now, the current server systems support several income paths: daily join rewards, daily challenges, quest rewards, job roles, horse sales, plot sales, and horse breeding.

If you are new, the easiest approach is simple: log in daily, keep an eye on your daily challenges, run quests whenever you can, and start taking paid work once you’re settled into the server. If you already have horses, plots, or a business, your biggest income usually comes from selling services to other players.

If you want the fastest beginner-friendly money routine, do this:

- Log in every day for your daily join reward.
- Open `/daily-challenges` and finish as many as you can.
- Run quests through `/quest`.
- Check your balance with `/bal`.
- Once you have settled in, start using jobs, horse sales, or plot sales for bigger payouts.

1. Daily Join Rewards

One of the simplest ways to earn money is just by logging in. The server gives a daily join reward automatically the first time you log in each day. This reward multiplies for every day in a row you logged on, and resets after 28 days.

2. Daily Challenges

Use `/daily-challenges` to open your current challenge list. Daily challenges rotate and often track horse-centered gameplay such as:

- completing daily horse care
- spending ride time on horseback
- finishing lunging sessions
- purchasing tack

When a challenge is completed, the server automatically awards both money and XP. That makes daily challenges one of the best “do what you were already doing anyway” money sources.

3. Daily Training

locate daily and replaying training races to earn money, player xp, and horse xp.

4. Quests

Use `/quest` to open your active quest menu. Quests are a strong money-maker because they are built with both money rewards and XP rewards.

Many quests reward a larger first-time completion payout, and replayable quests can still pay again afterward. If you enjoy structured progression, quests are one of the cleanest and most reliable ways to build your balance.
